ENVISION THE FUTURE
The Chicago Lighthouse Endowment Campaign
For over 110 years, The Chicago Lighthouse has helped people who are blind, visually impaired, disabled and Veterans build self-sufficient and successful lives. Our programs cover every life stage, providing educational, social and employment opportunities for these historically underserved communities.

Since our beginning in 1906, The Chicago Lighthouse has championed access and inclusion for all. From providing jobs to people who were blind or visually impaired in the early 20th century to having broad representation of Veterans and people with disabilities among our staff today, The Chicago Lighthouse has always believed that by providing meaningful opportunities for our clients, they can lead more independent, fulfilling lives.

To continue to offer these vitally important services for today’s generation and generations to come, The Chicago Lighthouse needs your help. Our Envision the Future Endowment Campaign will ensure we will remain the premier organization for those most in need of our critical services.
For more than a century, The Chicago Lighthouse has served as a beacon for Chicago’s underserved communities. We began in 1906 by providing clothes, food and employment services to people who were blind or visually impaired. Over the years, we expanded our programming to include children, Seniors and adults with visual impairments and additional disabilities. Seeing a need for additional services in our community, we broadened our mission in 2014 to include services for Veterans and people who are otherwise disabled.

With 40 programs, proudly serving 67,000 people annually, The Chicago Lighthouse sets the benchmark as one of the most comprehensive social service agencies in the country. We never turn away a client based on an inability to pay.

Throughout our history, we have followed one simple principle: All people, regardless of ability, deserve an opportunity to achieve their highest potential. Whether helping a toddler who is visually impaired take her first tentative steps in a world built for the sighted, providing gainful employment for someone who had lost hope, or outfitting a young man with the latest in visual-assistance technology so he can continue to follow his dream of being a pharmaceutical technician, we want everyone to have a chance to live the life they envision, now and long into the future.

And so, we are proud to introduce our Envision the Future Endowment Campaign. In the following pages, you will see how we have changed countless lives with our education, employment services and research and rehabilitation programs. Only with a healthy endowment can The Chicago Lighthouse continue providing our services to the people who need them the most—today, tomorrow and for generations to come!

With much appreciation in advance,
A History of Innovation, Access and Inclusion

When Anna reached out to our Birth-to-Three Early Intervention Program, she felt overwhelmed. Already juggling the chaos of newborn triplets, one of her babies, Luca, had been diagnosed with retinopathy of prematurity. Like many of our Early Intervention children, Luca had an additional diagnosis of cerebral palsy, which affected his muscle control. While Lighthouse teachers worked with Luca on his developmental challenges, the young family attended group sessions where they met other families with whom they could share resources and experiences. Connecting with that group helped Anna start the process of accepting her new life.

“The Chicago Lighthouse’s Birth-to-Three Parent Group was the first time I felt comfortable opening up about how I felt as a parent of a child with a disability. It helped me meet other parents who could say, ‘I understand. I’m with you,’” Anna says.
Diagnosed with Stargardt disease at a young age, Jim feared the day when his vision would decline to the point where he could no longer contribute meaningfully to the success of an employer. In 2015, facing a rapid and unexpected loss in vision, Jim became a patient of world-renowned ophthalmologist Dr. Gerald Fishman, who not only treated Jim’s physical condition but heard his professional concerns as well. With Dr. Fishman’s assistance, Jim interviewed for the role of Call Center Supervisor. He is now The Lighthouse’s Director of Call Center Planning and Analytics, overseeing operations and reporting for our Customer Care Centers.

“As a visually impaired person, it is intimidating to enter the workforce where you’re not sure how your disability is going to be perceived. The Lighthouse provided solutions that eliminated barriers I was worried about, so I can focus on doing my job. And, thanks to The Lighthouse, I now have a very fulfilling job,” Jim says.
VISION CARE IS ALWAYS PROGRESSING. THE CHICAGO LIGHTHOUSE’S WORLD-CLASS RESEARCHERS WORK WITH LEADING COMPANIES AND RESEARCH INSTITUTIONS ON CUTTING-EDGE MEDICAL AND TECHNOLOGY TRIALS. OUR SPECIALIZED CARE TEAMS DEVELOP SOLUTIONS THAT ENABLE PATIENTS TO LIVE THE LIVES THEY ENVISION.
As a violinist in the first violin section of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Alison Dalton relied on her sight. If she could not read music, or see her conductor, her career would come to an end. Diagnosed with a central scotoma, Alison was losing hope, until she came to the Pangere Center for Inherited Retinal Diseases.

Dr. Gerald Fishman, a world-renowned ophthalmologist, and our Assistive Technology team created a unique, first-of-its-kind tool that enabled Alison to read sheet music and keep her dream job. She continues to receive low vision services through The Sandy & Rick Forsythe Center for Comprehensive Vision Care.

“When I walked through the doors at The Chicago Lighthouse, I felt that they would take care of me. I had been to 40 doctors who had no solutions,” Alison says.
